Leader's Guide

FROM THE PRESIDENT AND CEO

Dear Friends,

Thank you for participating in Heifer International's Read to Feed® program. You are helping us pass on an important message to children: it is possible to eliminate two of the biggest problems — hunger and poverty — while making the world a better place. In our more than 70 years, we have helped more than 32 million families build better lives for themselves and their communities. Through this program, you are helping us accomplish our goal of helping families achieve living incomes.

Read to Feed teaches the fundamentals of caring for others while fostering a love of reading. By including Read to Feed in your classroom, you are helping the next generation understand that they can be part of the solution to global issues. Welcome to the Heifer International family, and thank you again for helping us fulfill our mission to end hunger and poverty while caring for the Earth.

Sincerely,

Pierre U. Ferrari
President and CEO

WHY HEIFER?

It all started with a cow. Moved by the plight of refugees of the Spanish Civil War as he ladled out meager rations of powdered milk, Indiana farmer Dan West realized that people needed “not a cup, but a cow.” Heifer International was born from that simple idea.

In 1944, the first cows sent abroad were donated by West’s neighbors and distributed in Puerto Rico. Following World War II, Heifer became active in revitalizing war-torn countries in Europe and Asia. More than 70 years later, we have expanded our mission and the variety of livestock available to include bees, chickens, goats, llamas and water buffalo.

To help families achieve living incomes, we bring communities together and link them to nearby markets. Our animals provide project partners with a reliable source of food and income. Extra agricultural products — such as milk from cows or goats, honey from bees, or eggs from chickens — can be sold at market.

The income earned allows them to educate their children and feed their families adequately every day. It also gives them the ability to access proper housing, water, hygiene and other essential resources necessary to live resilient lives.

WHAT IS READ TO FEED?

Read to Feed is a fun and engaging readathon in which students practice literacy skills while learning about global issues of hunger and poverty. Once your students set a goal, they ask family and friends for sponsorship pledges. At the end of the program, students pool their funds to select animals and gifts for families in need around the world. Reading more translates to helping more families! Read to Feed fosters a love of reading, a passion to help others and a desire to create a better world as a globally minded citizen.

HUNGER FACT

Hunger is the world’s No. 1 health risk. It kills more than AIDS, malaria and tuberculosis combined.

HOW TO PLAN AND IMPLEMENT READ TO FEED

Read to Feed offers a variety of options for engaging students. Our resources explain complex topics such as hunger and poverty in a way students can easily understand, leaving them feeling empowered to create change.

PLAN YOUR PROGRAM

- 1 Set the dates for your Read to Feed program. Many schools allow three to six weeks, but the program is flexible — choose less or more time!
- 2 Introduce Heifer with a lesson or video to explain how Read to Feed helps fight hunger. Show students our animals and farmers in action with videos. Visit www.readtofeed.org/resources to find links to our YouTube, Vimeo and TeacherTube channels. Email volunteer@heifer.org to request a local volunteer or staff member to speak at your school.
- 3 Set goals by deciding the number of books or length of time each child should read.
- 4 Hang a Read to Feed poster in a prominent location.
- 5 Pass out the Student Guides and explain how to recruit sponsors, track reading goals and earn rewards for the class. Ask local businesses to “sponsor” in-school competitions in addition to, or as an alternative to, individual sponsorships. For example, ask a local bookstore to offer free books, or find a local company to donate a goat from the gift catalog for every 100 books the class reads.
- 6 Teach standards-based lessons from ReadtoFeed.org. (Optional)
- 7 Track and display your class’s progress on the Read to Feed poster. Use creative in-school rewards for meeting goals, such as giving extra recess or having your principal dress up like a cow. We also have FREE rewards available for request online, including bookmarks, pencils and animal buttons.
- 8 Collect pledges, select an animal or other gift(s), and send your donation to Heifer International.

SHARE YOUR SUCCESS!

Let your community in on the action! Share your class’s success with local media outlets and on social media. Post a Facebook update or tweet your success story with pictures using #ReadtoFeed.

READ TO FEED: OUT OF THE BOX

Many educators using Read to Feed have created brilliant adaptations of the basic program to fit their needs or to further challenge their students. Try one of these clever ideas, or create your own.

Hoof it for Heifer

Harness the power of active students and their families by hosting a 5K or Field Day to raise money for your Read to Feed program. Runners pay an entry fee or ask friends and family to sponsor them. Remember to visit www.heifer.org/marketplace to find great prizes for participants.

Notes for Goats

Use the Read to Feed program, but change the activity tracked to music! Students can ask for sponsors for number of hours practiced or songs mastered. It's a great way to encourage students to develop their musical skills while raising funds to end hunger.

Celebrate with a Living Gift Market

Students volunteer to run booths, each representing an animal or other gift to struggling farming families around the world. Market attendees visit each booth, where the student hosts explain how that living gift can lift a family out of poverty and into self-reliance. At each booth, sponsors can make donations to Heifer in the amount of the represented animal. You can also incorporate other ways for students to showcase their learning into your event! Order a FREE Living Gift Market Guide at www.heifer.org/livinggift.

Book Exchange

Kids and families gather old children's books and bring them to a "trading center." Allow children to purchase any book for 25 or 50 cents, with proceeds going toward your Read to Feed goal.

Heifer Challenge

Ask a daring teacher, administrator or local public figure to take a Heifer challenge. Have them do something silly like kiss a pig or wear a chicken suit if your class or school reaches a certain goal. Be creative and have fun!

Labors of Love

Ask students to turn their chores into labors of love by donating any money earned toward the class's Read to Feed funds.

Art for a Cause

Create art representing global issues and host an art auction fundraiser. Ask students to create art that reflects their hopes for a better world and use the proceeds to help end hunger and poverty.

Wish List to Save the Earth

Students pledge to ask parents, friends and relatives to make a donation in their honor as a birthday, holiday, graduation or other special occasion gift.

FINAL STEPS CHECKLIST

When your designated Read to Feed time comes to a close, finish strong with these final steps for success.

- 1 Ask students and parents to collect their sponsorship funds (either via their Read to Feed Web page or as physical checks made out to Heifer International).
- 2 Tally the total and select an animal or other gift from the Student Guide catalog.
- 3 Send any checks, along with the donation form attached to this guide, to Heifer International, P.O. Box 8058, Little Rock, AR 72203.
- 4 Celebrate your class's success and enjoy knowing your hard work is changing lives.
- 5 Remember to tell your local media about your accomplishment, and let us know via Facebook, Twitter or email!

NOTE TO PARENTS

Your child's teacher is participating in Read to Feed®, Heifer International's reading incentive program. Students recruit sponsors for each goal they achieve, whether it is based on number of books or period of time spent reading.

The goal is to help children practice literacy skills by promoting reading while helping Heifer provide livestock to struggling families around the world.

Read to Feed provides a powerful reason for students to read. They learn about different cultures and the importance of using the Earth's resources wisely. Most important, they learn that they can make a difference in the world. Thank you for encouraging your child during the Read to Feed program!

It requires little time on your part, but means impoverished and hungry children around the world will have a sustainable source of food, an opportunity to go to school and a hope for a better tomorrow.

HOW TO HELP YOUR CHILD DURING READ TO FEED

- 1 Complete the enclosed enrollment form on page 6 and have your child promptly return it to his or her teacher.
- 2 Keep track of your child's progress toward the overall goal so you can help spread the word via email or social media. If your child's teacher is utilizing our online fundraising platform, you can join the classroom or team fundraising page at ReadtoFeed.org to stay up to date.
- 3 Help your child obtain sponsors using the form in the center of this booklet. If your child's teacher has chosen to use online fundraising, be sure to share the link to their class page with sponsors. All sponsors who send a check or give online will receive a receipt from Heifer International for their contribution.
- 4 Encourage your child to reach his or her reading goal. A book reading list to track your child's progress is on the inside back cover of this booklet.
- 5 Inspire your child by reading success stories about our work and the benefits animals provide families around the world at Heifer.org. It is also a great site to share with potential sponsors to help them learn more about what we do.

THINGS YOUR FAMILY CAN DO TOGETHER TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

1 Unique Gifts

Give Heifer gifts for birthdays, holidays and special occasions! Encourage loved ones to give in your honor. Set up a customized page at www.heifer.org/fundraise and let the giving begin! (Plus, avoid regifting awkwardness.)

2 Learn Together

Visit a Heifer Learning Center for a hands-on experience! Plan your trip at www.heifer.org/visit. You can also learn about issues related to our work and read success stories from families we work with at www.heifer.org/blog.

Volunteer Together

3 We love our volunteers and welcome you to join us! Visit www.heifer.org/volunteer to learn about opportunities near you, or find a soup kitchen or other organization working to address hunger and poverty in your community.

To find out more, go to ReadtoFeed.org or Heifer.org. Thank you for helping your child change the world!

Heifer International is a nonprofit organization dedicated to ending hunger and poverty while caring for the Earth. Gifts of livestock and training help lift families from poverty to self-reliance.

To help the greatest number of families move toward self-reliance, Heifer does not use its limited resources to track individual animals from donation to distribution to specific families.

NOTE TO KIDS

We believe young people — just like YOU — have the power to change the world!

We know young people can be powerful champions. We are glad you are helping to end hunger and poverty. When we all work together, great things happen! To get you started, here is some information about Heifer and Read to Feed you can share with family and friends.

Who should I talk to about Heifer?

Talk to people you see every day. Family, friends and neighbors you know well are a good start. Tell your dentist, scouting leader, teammates and their parents. Remember to have a parent or another adult you trust with you if you talk to strangers.

What should I say about Heifer?

Tell people that Heifer International is an organization that helps families around the world and in the United States by giving gifts of animals and training. The animals help families to have nutrition (food to be healthy) and income (money from selling products like eggs, yarn or cheese). The training helps families learn to care for their animals and how to keep them healthy. Families also learn how to develop businesses to sell the products from their animals and their offspring (once they are old enough).

What should I tell people about Read to Feed?

Share about how Read to Feed is a fun program that encourages students to read in order to help families around the world. Ask them to give you a small amount of money for each book you read or time you spend reading. (Your class and teacher will discuss how to measure goals.)

Did you and your classmates decide to raise funds for a certain animal? Did you set a goal for the number of books you want to read? Tell people about the goals you want to accomplish. If your child's teacher has chosen to use online fundraising, you can share the webpage to show the progress toward your goal.

What else should I say?

It's always good to tell people why you want to help Heifer. Also, be sure to say thank you (for listening AND for promising to sponsor you).

GIFT GUIDE

The following pages include our gift guide to help you, along with your teacher and classmates, decide which gift(s) to select when you reach your goal. Learn fun facts about each animal and how they help families with children – just like you – around the world!

Keep reading to learn more about how you will make a difference in the lives of others.

COWS

GENTLE GIANTS

Hurray for heifers – that’s a female cow that has not yet given birth to a calf. A quality dairy cow can produce four gallons of milk a day – enough for a family to drink, share with neighbors and sell for cash. The sale of surplus milk earns money for school fees, medicine, clothing and home improvements.

Fun Fact

Cows have excellent vision and can see in a nearly complete circle.

Cows Provide

Goats

SCRAPPY SURVIVORS

Goats can thrive in extreme climates and on poor, dry land by eating leaves, weeds and grass. Many people around the world rely on them for milk. A dairy goat can supply a family with up to a gallon of nutritious milk a day – just about the right amount if you don’t have a refrigerator. Goats often have two or three kids a year.

Fun Fact

Goats discovered coffee beans!

Llamas

HARDY HIGHLANDERS

It's easy to sing the praises of llamas. At home in rough, mountainous areas, llamas provide transportation and wool, which is prized for making blankets, ponchos, carpet and rope. Families can sell these products for extra income. Llamas are hardy and require little care. They can live at high altitudes where their padded feet are easy on the fragile earth.

Fun Fact

Llamas are sometimes used as "guards" for other herd animals.

Sheep

WOOLLY WANDERERS

Many communities around the world depend on wool, meat and even milk from sheep. Families use sheep's wool to make clothes or sell for extra income. Sheep often give birth to twins or triplets and can graze even in the hilliest, rockiest pastures.

Fun Fact

Sheep were some of the first animals to be kept on a farm.

Chickens

PLUCKY PRODUCERS

A good hen can lay up to 200 eggs a year—a reliable source of protein for children who live mostly on starches. Extra eggs can be sold to pay for school, clothes and medicine. Because chickens require very little space and thrive on readily available food scraps, families can make money from the birds without spending too much. Chickens also scratch up soil and enrich it with their droppings, improving crops and diets.

Fun Fact

Chicken eggs can come in a rainbow of colors, including white, brown, green, blue and pink.

Ducks & Geese

FRIENDLY FLOCK

Ducks and geese are easy to raise, don't require much shelter and can adapt to hot, wet or cold weather. Quality geese lay about 75 large eggs a year and ducks can lay up to 200. Heifer families pass on fertilized eggs or young birds to others in need.

Fun Fact

A flock of ducks can also be called a raft, a team or a paddling. A flock of geese on the ground can be called a gaggle; in flight they are a wedge or a skein.

THAT'LL DO, Pig

Pigs are among the world's most popular farm animals. The reason? They're prolific. With up to 20 piglets a year that can each weigh as much as 200 pounds in six months, families with Heifer pigs often double their income. And there are plenty of offspring to pass on to others in need. Farm animals like pigs are "living bank accounts" (piggy banks) for poor families.

Pigs are omnivores. They eat everything from roots to reptiles!

RASCALLY Rabbits

Rabbits are easy to raise. To thrive, they just need to stay warm and dry and eat simple foods like carrot tops, potato vines and grasses. Rabbit manure can be applied directly to gardens to make them produce more crops or vegetables. Because rabbits have as many as 20 offspring a year, the gift multiplies quickly, benefiting many families.

Water Buffalo

POWERFUL PROVIDERS

In poor villages in India and the Philippines, water buffalo provide milk for protein, manure for fertilizer and fuel and plowing power for planting rice and potatoes. A farmer can plant four times more rice with a water buffalo than by hand. Plus, families can earn more money by renting their buffalo to neighbors.

Fun Fact

Water buffalo are often called "living tractors."

Bees

BUSY BODIES

Bees are easy to keep. They require almost no space and once the hives are established, they are inexpensive to maintain. After all, humans don't have to feed bees. As bees search for nectar (their food), they pollinate plants. Placed in the right locations, near fruit trees and vegetable gardens, beehives can as much as double fruit and vegetable yields. Heifer bees and a hive provide families with better crops, candle wax, pollen for medicine, and honey to eat and sell.

Honeybees have five eyes: two big ones in the front of their heads and three small ones on top.

Tree Seedlings

WONDERS OF THE WORLD

Trees give us more than a place to climb or a cool, shady place to rest. Trees are essential to life on Earth. That's why planting fast-growing trees is often the first step when families and communities begin working with Heifer. Trees put nitrogen back into the soil, hold water in the soil and moisture in the air, serve as windbreaks and provide animal feed, fencing, firewood and more.

Trees are one of the longest-living organisms on Earth.

Fish

SUSTAINING SCHOOLS

Fish are a healthy source of protein, which is great for strong muscles, and healthy fats, which are good for the brain. A pond full of fish gives a family a steady supply of nutritious food and extra money for things they need, like medicine, books, school fees and clothing. Decaying fish (and parts of fish that are not eaten) can be used to create fertilizer to help crops grow, too!

You can guess a fish's age by counting the growth rings on its scales – much like a tree!

Gift Ark

PRODUCTIVE PAIRS

The Gift Ark goes around the world – from Africa to Asia and to the Americas. But what does this generous gift mean? The ark includes two water buffalo, two cows and two goats, along with bees, chicks, rabbits and more. These healthy, hardy animals improve lives for countless families and children. Your gift will be passed on over and over again to places in the world where your generosity and kindness are needed most.

WELLNESS WORKERS

Animals need food, shelter and medical care, but in many countries it is very difficult to get to the veterinarian. That is why we often train people to become Community Animal Health Workers. Participants learn important lessons about animal health and nutrition, so the livestock in their communities grow strong and produce healthy offspring. Your gift of an Animal Care Kit may include a thermometer, stethoscope, hoof trimmer, scalpels, gloves, disinfectants and important medicine.

Irrigation Pumps

TAPPING THE POSSIBILITIES

In the communities where we work, many homes do not have running water, and some families do not even have a well nearby. Instead, they must spend hours each day walking to collect water. This is often a chore left to the children – especially girls – leaving no time for school. You can make a difference by helping families and communities install irrigation pumps.

More than 758 million people lack access to improved drinking water – that's more than two times the population of the United States.

Biogas Stove

REUSED REFUSE

For most families where we work, cooking requires firewood. That means someone (usually children) has to collect wood by hand. It often results in too many trees being cut down. The smoke from cooking fires can cause breathing problems and eye problems. We have a solution, though! Biogas stoves use methane gas captured from animal waste. The stoves burn cleanly (so eyes and lungs aren't bothered), reliably and efficiently (so there's less need for firewood).

Indoor smoke claims half a million lives due to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease among men and women worldwide.
